

Neighbors Helping Neighbors

COVID-19 has created extraordinary circumstances that are putting a strain on every family. Public health experts tell us that social distancing is essential to preventing the spread of this disease. This is a critical time for neighbors to help neighbors, even as we observe proper precautions to keep ourselves safe.

If you are elderly or have underlying health issues that prevent you from going out and need supplies or any other type of assistance, please reach out and let us know what help you need.

If you are healthy and are not in a high-risk group and are able to pick up supplies or run an errand for a neighbor while you are doing your own grocery shopping, please let us know your availability to help.
